ACSI has been closely monitoring the continuing developments over the implementation of tariffs on imported raw materials and finished goods into the United States. ACSI has already started to incur tariffs from multiple sources. I know most of you have received letters from some door and hardware manufacturers outlining their tariff plans. The tariffs continue to be a moving target.

Effective May 1, 2025, any orders placed on or after that date, the following list price added adjustments will be implemented to ACSI Price Book #10:

Series 1100 Electric Hinges

We have already scheduled Price Book #11 to be effective June 1, 2025. The new Price Book is on the ACSI web site. This was a scheduled price increase and in no way is related to any tariff issue. We will continue to provide you with updated information regarding the tariffs and how they will relate to the new Price Book.

Please consult the factory or your ACSI representative for any outstanding quotes. Most jobs will need to have the quotes updated to reflect the product quoted and the current tariff involved for those products. ACSI will continue to monitor the tariff situation and adjust pricing accordingly.

Thank you for your continued loyalty and support. Please contact me or our customer service group with any questions.
